CONSTRUCTION SITES

Services Industriels

At the end of April 2024, the former Industrial Services building was demolished to make way for a new, modern and functional building, designed to meet the requirements of a modern administration. This project will be completed shortly. At the construction site on Route de Larochette, the final stages of the interior fit-out are currently underway, meaning that Services Industriels will soon be able to leave their temporary premises at the former Schou site and move into the new building located at 32 Route de Larochette.

Swimming pool café

The swimming pool café is currently being renovated. As the attractive premises of the sports centre have remained unoccupied in recent months, the municipality has decided to convert them into a space for our clubs, where they can hold their meetings or gather on other occasions. To ensure this can take place in a relaxed atmosphere, the premises are currently undergoing a complete refurbishment.

MUNICIPAL PROJECTS

Urban art

Last year, the municipality launched its first urban art projects in Diekirch and plans to commission further works of this kind in the town centre in the future. Thus, in March 2026, the wall of the Maison de l'Orientation was enhanced by the artist Julien Lavandier (nuublaa). His highly graphic style of painting highlights the building's interesting architecture and places it, so to speak, on a fitting pedestal. For the artist, shapes and their interaction play an important role.

Urban gardening

During April, attractive planters containing shrubs, ornamental vegetables and herbs will be installed in the Dechensgaard and the pedestrian zone, making the town not only more colourful but also edible. Although the vegetable varieties are a feast for the eyes, anyone who wishes to do so will be able to help themselves. Urban gardening is all the rage and is now making its way into Diekirch town centre.

FESTIVALS & EVENTS

Diekirch SauerRallye

Diekirch is hosting a new event. On 26 April, the first Dikricher SauerRallye will take place along the river, organised by the municipality itself with the help of local associations. This playful trail along the Sauer is aimed at anyone who enjoys having fun and exercising outdoors. At the finish line, a great prize awaits the winners, of course. You'll find all the details on the attached card.

CLIMATE NEWS

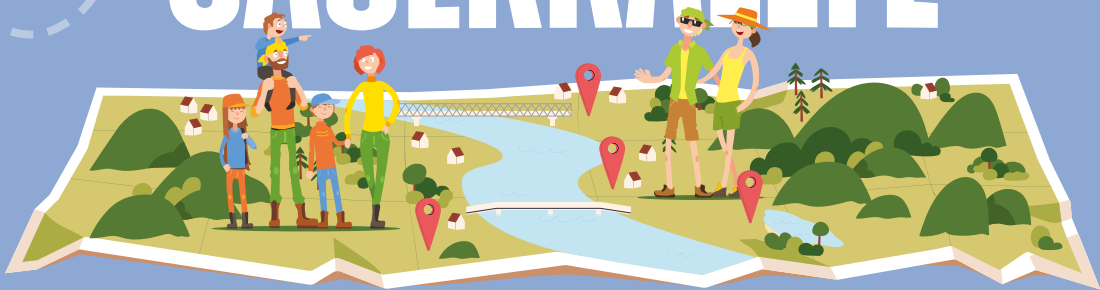

Climate tips for the warmer months

Spring is approaching and temperatures are rising. Now is the perfect time to take conscious action for the climate:

- Make the most of the first warm days to turn down the heating. Don't leave windows on the vent setting, but continue to air rooms by opening them briefly.
 - Use your bike more often.
 - Buy seasonal produce: whilst carrots, beetroot and cabbage are still in season, lettuce, rhubarb, wild garlic, spinach and radishes will soon be harvested.
 - Plant flowers that attract bees, such as lavender and nasturtiums, or herbs such as sage and thyme. Avoid pesticides – a nettle spray or soap works just as well – or simply order cockhafers, which happily feed on aphids.
- Important: use peat-free compost to protect the wetlands, and leave the lawnmower in the shed for now!
